Application #10/829/384

Dear Examiner,

I sincerely request that the following attached information and claims be added to my application.

The signal sending unit will remain the same in its use.

The cell phone is also is my idea to be a signal receiver and serves the same purpose as the other before described signal receiver, only in a broader since. Attached is a simple drawing and a separate page for the description with four additional claims

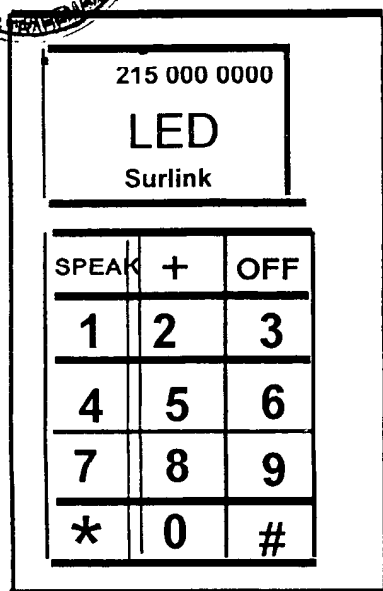

Your help in this matter is greatly appreciated... Thank you so much.
